THE RECENT MONGREL CONVENTION—ITS PERSONAL AND AFRICANIZED ASPECT—THE CO-OPERATIONISTS—NEGRO SUPREMACY THE UPSHOT—FEUD BETWEEN THE LEADERS—HOLDEN AND DANIEL R. GOODLOE—THE CONSERVATIVES AWAKENING.

RALEIGH, N. C., Sept. 21, 1867.

The black and tan convention recently in session in this city was one of the most remarkable gatherings, if infinite variety is considered, that ever assembled in profound deliberation over the political questions that now agitate the old and respected North State. Far from their deliberation being profound, however, the proceedings, or performances, they might aptly be termed, partook more of a serio-comic nature, being replete with funny incidents, comical eccentricities, and having among the actors some renowned acrobats, politically of course. The variegated complexion of the convention was one of its best features. It was not imposing, nor can its dignity be classed as of that order that forcibly impresses the spectator with awe and admiration; but there was a melo-dramatic scenic effect about the whole at once singular and suggestive. The unadulterated African, in all his pristine elegance and original ignorance, with physiognomy of the darkest ebony, flattest nose, thickest lips, resplendent ivories and rolling eyes, stood foremost as a leading character in this reconstruction drama. Next in prominence comes the bright mulatto, with his arrogance and assumption, a good deal of cunning and intelligence, and a spattering of education—the result of the white blood that courses through his veins—making him an object of fear to his Caucasian brethren and admiration among his colored colleagues. Then the eye is struck with all the intervening shades, including bracket, copper color, ginger-bread, dark skinned, light mulatto, and numerous other complexions already familiar and uninteresting to the reader. Last, and after the visitor has glanced carefully over the more conspicuous of the above mentioned, he sees the co-operating brethren of Anglo-Saxon race, and then, alas! a piteous sight he sees. Gaunt, grim, lean, lank, cadaverous, sinister and with visages anything else but prepossessing, the white members of the convention are easily recognized by their slinking, hanging, whispering, half audible expressions, and a multitude of airs that at once conveys the impression and explains that term "mean whites," so commonly used by the radicals to make capital now a days when electioneering with the negroes.

The deliberations of the Convention were perhaps as parti-colored as its speckled complexion, and the whole session was marked by contusion, discord, a babel of dialects, contradictions, personal encounters, the upshot of the whole being that the "nigger" was the superior of the white man, and henceforward they should govern North Carolina, under the managerial directorship of that renowned gentleman, W. W. Holden. With such a distinguished apostle of the "God and morality party" as a leader, it was not to be wondered at that a split was occasioned, and the best Republicans went home from the Convention in disgust with themselves, their companions and the party. Feuds were inaugurated which still rage and convulse the "party," the leaders of which tremble for its safety and perpetuation. Even the virtuous Billy Holden, who will hand down to his posterity the pen with which he signed the ordinance of secession as his most valuable heirloom, has excommunicated, through the columns of his paper, the Standard, (once a good rebel organ) Daniel R. Goodloe, the editor of the Register, the best Republican paper published in this city. Goodloe, who is a consistent and an honest man, replies to the excommunication by giving Holden's record from the time he was the champion of slavery and secession, when he used to discuss the proper treatment of slaves and free negroes—the former of whom "he would feed well, clothe well and whip well," while to the latter he would give the alternative of going into slavery or making them leave the State—up to the present, with many interesting data of the said Holden as a fire eater, a rampant secessionist, an ardent rebel and other little circumstances of the same kind usually connected with the class of men in the South now know as co-operationists. Such is the delightful muddle and state of contention into which the negro supremacy party has been thrown by their late Convention in this State; and as Goodloe says "we are quite willing to be thrown out of the political hotch-pot which contains such ingredients," he had better congratulate himself for his escape from such a mongrel crew.

The conservatives, alive to the vital issues of the hour and profiting not only by the symptoms of reaction in favor of a "white man's country and a white man's government" at the North, but also by the ruptures in the radical party here, have determined to use all to advantage and are now urging with vigor and energy the necessity of holding a conservative convention in this city, which will adopt a plan of action by which the State can be saved from negro supremacy. This has met a warm advocate in the Sentinel, the conservative organ here, and already the press of the State have responded by loud and repeated calls for action by the white men of North Carolina. Meetings are announced to be held at the various county seats, and in all of them the work goes bravely on.

SOUTHERN REGISTRATION—NEGRO SUPREMACY.

Negro suffrage means negro supremacy, pure and simple. This is the direct testimony of the registration returns. Radical orators appeal to popular sympathy and say that it means only justice to the downtrodden; and, again, they appeal to sectional prejudice and say that it means a balance of power against the still disloyal white men of the South. But the clear testimony of the figures is that nigger suffrage means nothing more nor less than absolute nigger supremacy in the settlement of the political destinies of this nation. Returns from the ten States are sufficiently full to show that the whole vote will run very near to twelve hundred thousand. On this vote, dividing it strictly according to color, the nigger will have close to one hundred thousand majority. The nigger supremacy party would have this majority, then, if every white man in the Southern States voted against it. It is estimated, however, that more than a hundred thousand of the white voters will act with that party, and thus its majority will be run up to two hundred thousand votes. Nothing can prevent this, so far as can now be foreseen; for even if the President could give amnesty to every possible man that stands in need of it, the number of votes thus secured could not change the result. Thus the radicals have, in all probability, every Southern State of the ten. In Virginia the white vote predominates to a larger figure than in any other; but the republican white vote is large enough to more than balance the thirteen thousand by which the white voters of the Old Dominion outnumber the nigger voters. These figures settle the question of reconstruction, for the States will be admitted at once, now that it is clear the radical leaders can control their action. They will be rushed in early enough to participate in the choice for the next President. Into that election, therefore, the radical leaders will go with ten States nailed to their platform. Then, if they can make any decent division of the Northern vote, though a distinct majority of the Northern people who carried on the war and saved the country should decide against them, yet, with a Northern minority, this nigger vote of the ten States will turn the balance in their favor. Thus the men of the South who were slaves four year ago will force a President and a policy on the people of the North. The tables will then have been strangely turned by folly and fanaticism. Seven years ago the South rose in arms against a President elected by Northern white votes. Northern men put down that rebellion, and have carried their putting down so far that they may now have to accept a President elected by Southern niggers. All this may happen unless a tremendous majority against the fanatics in the elections this fall in New York and Pennsylvania shall frighten them to an abandonment of their programme.—N. Y. Herald.

WM. E. PELL, | SEATON GALES, EDITORS.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 28, 1867.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY STARBUCK'S LETTER.

The Salem Press, and the Register, of this city, publish a long letter from District Attorney Starbuck, giving an official opinion as to the legal meaning of the "Test Oath." We are sorry that Mr. Starbuck should have ventured an opinion upon the subject, for the reason, first, that thousands will regard it as an apology to his own mind for his own course, which we would regard as unfortunate, and, secondly, because it will give the public a very poor opinion of his legal acumen and his constructions of law.

The Register thinks that Mr. Starbuck "has presented, rather, what should be the meaning of that oath, than what is." When Mr. Starbuck attempts to explain what the Congress meant, by drawing it or inferring it from what Congress has not said, he is guilty of disrespect to that body. It is as much as to say that Congress did not know how to express its meaning. Mr. S. ought to have learned from his horn-books, that the only safe and allowable way of interpreting any law, is to draw its meaning wholly from the language used in its uniform and generally received meaning. It is in this way only, you can get at the spirit and intent of the law, if you desire to establish a meaning which will be universally received. If you allow to interpreters of the law the license to go behind the act or to draw in all the attendant facts surrounding the act, no uniform interpretations could be arrived at.

When Congress, in the solemn manner that all legislative bodies employ in prescribing an oath to be taken by officers of the United States, puts the following language in the mouth of a man who is about to assume the duties of the office:

"I, A. B., do solemnly swear that I have never voluntarily borne arms against the United States; that I have voluntarily given no aid, counsel, countenance or encouragement to persons engaged in armed hostility thereto; and that I have neither sought nor accepted nor attempted to exercise the functions of any office whatever under any authority or pretended authority in hostility to the United States,"

—it must mean what it says, and nothing else. Every word in the oath must be supposed to have been weighed and measured, and to express then and there its precise meaning. Human law cannot enter into the motives or feelings of a man, or judge of them, only by his acts. Were human legislators to attempt this, what a Babel would our tribunals of justice be, and how insecure would be all human interests! If any man violates an iota of the plain language of the above oath, no matter what may have been his motive for doing so, and yet takes that oath, he is a perjured man before God and man; and no squirming or quibbling can make it otherwise.

We have not carefully read the whole letter, but the following extract strikes us as particularly unfortunate, coming from a lawyer. To our mind, our friend Starbuck will never attain to any great eminence as a Judge. Read it:

"But the taking of the Confederate oath, if done with the intent to "encourage the rebellion," would, in my opinion, exclude such person from taking the "test oath."—How are we to know the intent of the party? Simply by his conduct and "other acts" during the war. Every man's neighbors know his status, whether he was a Union man or a secessionist.

If a Union man, he is not presumed to have taken the oath with the intent to aid in destroying the Union, which was the object of his affections; while, if a secessionist, it is an equally strong presumption that he took the oath with the intent to "countenance or aid" in destroying the Union, which was the object of his hatred.

No one will deny that where one voluntarily aided the rebellion by volunteering into the rebel army, or voluntarily furnished supplies to the army, that he is excluded from taking the "test oath;" while if the same thing was done by one who was known to be a friend to the Union, to save himself from being forced into the rebel army, he is not excluded from taking the "test oath."

The right to take the "test oath" mainly depends on the status of the person during the war and his intents and purposes, and is in a great degree a matter of conscience (with the exception of a few officials who filled offices, heretofore referred to, created or used in the main for the express purpose of aiding the rebellion. Persons filling these last named offices are excluded by this clause of the oath, which excludes from office such as "held office under any authority in hostility to the United States.") Where it depends on the intent of the person, every man knows his own heart, and whether he was a friend to the Union or not; whether any aid which he may have rendered was voluntary and his own choice. And where a man by the course of his conduct and other "overt acts" established among his neighbors the general character of a Union man, or as such persons were often called tories or traitors to the Confederacy, any aid which such person may have rendered an impartial man would at once say was not done of his own voluntary choice. While on the other hand, a man who was known among his neighbors, by conduct, to have been heart and soul for the war, and rendered aid to the rebellion, it is equally as fair an inference that such aid was voluntarily rendered and he cannot consistently take the "test oath."

Therefore, any aid which may be given the rebellion by one whose well known status was that of a Union man, is presumed not to have been voluntarily done, and he has a presumptive right to take the "test oath;" while any aid rendered by one whose well known status was that of an enemy to the Union, is presumed to have been voluntarily done and he is excluded from the right to take the "test oath."

We have neither the time nor the disposition to animadvert upon the above extract, as it merits. Its glaring inconsistency and gross inaptness must be apparent to every one.

BROWNLOW STILL AT HIS DIRTY WORK.—The usurpations of Radicalism upon the rights of the people are endless.

A municipal election is about to occur in the city of Nashville. The State laws provide, and the decisions of the Supreme Court have settled the point, that such elections are not controlled by the Constitution and State election laws, but are alone governed by the provisions of the charter.

The charter of the city of Nashville provides that the judges and the clerks of elections shall be appointed by the board of Aldermen, and there is no authority any where for any one else to do it. Yet in the face of this fact Gov. Brownlow, not satisfied that eighty thousand voters are disfranchised, is determined to interfere in municipal affairs and control them as he does those of the State. He has issued a proclamation declaring that the appointment of judges and clerks of the election is vested by law in the Commissioner of Registration, and that he must discharge that duty.

In response, the Mayor of Nashville, W. Matt. Brown, has issued a counter proclamation, asserting the chartered rights of the city, and declaring the determination of the city authorities to proceed under them, regardless of the action or opinion of the Governor. He does not propose any resistance to the Governor or his agents, but insists that the city authorities will hold the election, and that if the Governor sees proper to hold another, the question of authority can afterward be tested by the courts.

The National Intelligencer, of the 25th says:

"A dispatch was received yesterday by the President from the Mayor and other city officials of Nashville, stating that there were reasonable grounds of an armed conflict at the charter election of next Saturday.—They have received information that Brownlow has issued a proclamation directing the (his) State guards to arrest the judges of the legally constituted charter election. This is a matter purely for the consideration of State courts, whose decisions the petitioners are willing to abide by. Gen. Cooper is in Nashville, in charge of Brownlow's militia, to carry out the menaced interference. The Mayor of Nashville asks that orders shall be given the United States troops there to protect the citizens at the ballot box.

The subject was considered in Cabinet, and the result was that General Grant telegraphed Gen. Thomas at Louisville to go to Nashville and remain until after the election. He is instructed to put down hostile mobs that may interfere with the elections. Gen. Thomas is informed that it is not the duty of the military to adjudge who are the legally constituted judges of election. They are only to preserve the peace. Conference with Brownlow and the city officials will probably result in a pacific arrangement."

THE COTTON-WORM.—The Wilson North Carolinian says that the insect has appeared on several farms in that County, and has seriously damaged the cotton.

A correspondent, writing from Warren County, says:

"The cotton-worm is depredating in this County. The roads running though the fields are full of them. Whether they will do any material damage, at this late day, is a disputed question. In fact, the farmers are very little acquainted with them. It is observed that, after the leaves are destroyed, they consume the small bolls. So far they have attacked only the rank growth,—inducing some to believe that the gain, by admission of the sun and air, will counterbalance the loss of the small bolls, which, in any event, would hardly reach maturity."

ORANGE.—A correspondent, writing us from this County, says:

"The Chairman of the Southern Board of Registration has discharged his duties in an able and efficient manner. Every one declares that justice was meted out to all, and that the thanks of the community are due to the Board.

Old Orange will go 'all right' for our approaching Convention."

From the Wilson Carolinian.

The Raleigh Sentinel contains a call for a Convention of the Conservative constitutional Union men of the county of Wake, to be held in Raleigh on Friday evening next.—Appended to the call are the names of some of the most talented and influential gentlemen of the State. If this movement, inaugurated by our fellow-citizens of Wayne, and followed by those of Wake, can be made general in the State, North Carolina may yet be preserved from the terrible fate which has befallen Tennessee. The call issued by the people of Wake ignores questions of national politics, and looks solely to the preservation of the State government from the control of the men, who composed the majority in the late Radical State Convention. If the old mother shall ever recover from the withering effects of a desolating war, the ignorant and the unprincipled must be prevented from gaining control of her affairs.—Their rule would perpetuate strife and bring ruin upon every industrial interest.—Let good men everywhere ponder these facts and bestir themselves to rescue her from such a destiny.

Among the signers of the call we find the names of Ex-Governors Bragg and Manly, and many others, whom the people of North Carolina have in other days delighted to honor. These gentlemen deem immediate action an urgent necessity. They have calmly surveyed the situation, and have determined that the State shall not pass into the control of demagogues and fanatics through neglect of theirs. An attentive reading of the speeches made in the Radical convention will convince all of the imperative need of some means by which to counteract the dangerous dogmas there promulgated and to defeat the author of the infamous sentiments there uttered. The majority of that body were actuated by base and ignoble moves. The whites in the convention—with honorable exceptions—basely pandered to the hates and prejudices of the negro majority. Sentiments so atrocious as to awaken the liveliest indignation in the breasts of all law-loving and law-abiding citizens were vehemently applauded, and threats of confiscation and further disfranchisement were received with applause. These creatures seek to obtain control of our municipal affairs. The white men of the State, aided we trust by all honest and reasonable negroes, must decide whether they shall accomplish their desires. We urge all classes, who disapprove these sentiments, to consider their duty, and when the hour for action arrives, to do it.

GEN. SICKLES' COURT OF INQUIRY.—Gen. Grant has approved and forwarded to the President Gen. Sickles', application for a court of inquiry. Much curiosity is expressed to learn what the President's action on this case will be.

Gen. Sheridan, accompanied by Gen. Forsyth, of his staff, called upon the President to-day to pay their respects, and had a brief and pleasant interview of a few minutes.—Balt. Sun, 24th.

For the Sentinel.

THAT CONVENTION—ITS ORATORS.

"Gov." W. W. Holden—"I know I am not consistent; but I know this—and I believe that my friends, of both races, would concede it to me—I am both bold and honest."

After this candid confession of inconsistency, one could scarcely have heart to twit the confessor, if he showed the least charity towards others, who have not been half so inconsistent as himself. He, indeed, says that he "cherished malice towards none; and that he had no resentments to gratify." What a commentary on such a declaration is nearly the whole of his speech! There is more spite and malice in this address itself, than in all the rest of the speeches made in the Convention. In fact, with a single exception, his was the only speech in which personal vituperation was indulged at all—and this speech of his, carefully prepared, is absolutely full of it. It has not the excuse of a temporary passion; but is what the law requires to be proven in homicide to constitute murder—"malice prepense." Others who cannot be presumed to have much love for Governor Worth, and Ex-Governors Graham and Vance, had the decency to bottle up their wrath—but this orator opened the vials with a vengeance—and always does when he opens his mouth. "I know I am not consistent," says he, and goes on with his inconsistencies at the very moment he is lamenting them—as though in spite of his penitence, his inconsistency was incorrigible. Avowing a lamb like innocence, and a heart incapable of malice or resentments, his whole effort breathes little else than bitter malignity towards Governors Vance and Worth, whose unpardonable offence is that the people preferred them to himself, by shameful majorities, as their Chief Magistrate—and towards Gov. Graham for refusing, as a Whig, to bid in the market against the Democratic party, many years ago, for his partisan editorial services. His "offence hath this extent—no more." And for this, and for nothing else, he has been soundly abused for a quarter of a century. Why these three distinguished men, all of whom continued to be Union men much longer than he did—and all of whom are better Union men now—should have been paraded in this indecent way before a Convention which is presumed to have met for other purposes than to listen to the pitiful recital of his petty private grievances, can be appreciated only by those who believe in a shameless if not a total depravity of human nature. What forgiveness can be ever hope from man or his Maker, who has no mercy himself! How can he pray

"That mercy I to others show,
That mercy show to me."

But we must all come to that, or go—to the dogs. But, white men and negroes, who may happen to be his friends, will "concede that he is both bold and honest." Of course he means political honesty. That is not a vexed question at this late day. If he is satisfied with the universal opinion on that question, it is well. So are we.

But he is "bold" also. No doubt of it. Nothing could be bolder than that speech itself throughout. Who but he could have had the face—not effrontery—after having recited nearly the whole of that most malignant Phillipic, to say that "he cherished malice towards none, and had no resentments to gratify?" It was indeed the height of bravery—the uncharitable night say, of impudence. Who but a very bold man could hold up his head before his colored friends, and claim to be their leader, and to love them almost to distraction, after having written and published such precious morceaux as these:

Nov. 30th, 1859. "The Black Republicans are capable of anything; when they get the power they will both rule and ruin."

(Same date.) "Let the South be ready for any consequences." "Let North Carolina be ready. Let her be put on a war footing," &c.

(Same.) "Far be it from us to advise under-rigor; but too much liberty, too much indulgence, will be sure to injure both the slave and the master."

(Same.) "It is a good rule in the management of slaves or servants, to clothe well, feed well, and whip well, if whipping be needed. Such a rule as this, instead of being cruel to the slave, is indeed merciful. It meets every purpose which Providence designed in his creation," &c., &c.

(Same.) "The true condition of the African race is that of dependence on the white man, or in other words slavery.

(Same.) After a recommendation, if the free negroes would not behave themselves and become useful to society, "to banish them from among us," he says: "For our own part, we have always maintained the opinion that there should be but two classes in the slaveholding States, the master white and the subjugated black."

Oct. 2, 1861. Some slaves had escaped from their masters to "a Yankee vessel"—and "were worked so hard by the Yankees that they could not stand it." They endeavored to return to their homes and were shot in the attempt—"shot down like dogs, when they tried to get away. This is a specimen of Yankee affection for the negro."

Nov. 23, 1859. "Let us give the back of our hands to every Northern man, unless we know him to be disposed to respect our institutions, and our rights, and if any of them should attempt to tamper with our slaves * * * let them be dealt with in a summary manner." (Shade of old John Brown! Hallelujah!)

Nov. 30, 1859. "Keep an eye on them! There are persons from the North, travelling through the South, professing to be engaged in business of various kinds, whom it would be well enough to watch. If they talk against slavery, or if they can apologise for Seward and his infamous doctrines, give them notice to leave, and make them leave. It was the Seward doctrine that led to the outrage at Harper's Ferry."

Aug. 31, 1859. Some run-away slaves had returned to their homes. Says the Standard: "They prefer slavery in Louisiana to freedom in Ohio. This is a rebuke stronger than many speeches to the abolitionists."

Sept. 26, 1860. "Our personal property in negroes is in no danger. If the abolitionists want our negroes, let them come, and take them. They might come, but they would never return. They know this as well as we do."—(Do they indeed?)

Sept. 25, 1860. He advocated the election of Breckenridge—a poor man—but who "would, no doubt, own a thousand Kinky-heads if he could." (Doubtless he would and he would not have fainted whether they had been "blacks or albinos," "tan-colored gentleman, or molasses complexioned individuals," so-called. He being a very good friend, would most likely have "fed well, clothed well, and whipped well."

Jan'y. 5, 1859. (THE AFRICAN SLAVE TRADE.) "It seems to be admitted that a cargo of slaves from Africa had been landed in Georgia and disposed of." He discusses the subject at large, and says among other things: "Not that they (Southern people) regard the Slave trade as sinful—for if the institution be sanctioned by Holy writ, as we insist it is, there can be little if any difference between holding in and reducing to bondage." Hear his jubilations about the glorious future of slavery:

"The acquisition of Cuba, which is certain, (!) and probably not very far distant, will add one million more to this population, and present in itself a large and most profitable extent of country for slave labor. In the fulness of time we will also have Central America and Mexico, thus adding still further to the area of slave territory. * * * The slave trade may be re-opened to some extent to supply the demand for labor in that vast region." Reprobating the "entangling alliance" between the U. S. government and Great Britain, to suppress the slave trade with Africa, he says, "It is enough for us to guard our own waters to prevent violation of our laws on the subject of the slave trade, without undertaking to watch and protect ninety millions of black barbarians whose TRUE and whose HAPPIEST condition is that of SERVITUDE."—"Ehen zun satie." Ought not such a precious negrophilist to eat wool until he swells into a huge Parliamentary "wool sack?" And ought not his own "kinky heads" to sit on him, whenever they please, and do what they please, especially when they sit in Committee of the whole on the state of the nation?

For the Sentinel.

"THAT CONVENTION."

A writer in the Sentinel has been ventilating the orators of the Convention—Republican, "so-called,"—which assembled in your City of Oaks, sometime since. So far as I have seen, his ventilations have been just. He has talked about "Windy Billy," "Grave Billy," (ex-P. G., vicegerent of Andy Johnson, and chief agent for the collection of money to defray the expenses for the erection of a monument over the said Andy Johnson's father, &c.) So far, so good. But there were three Billys (white, I mean,) in that Convention. There was "Windy Billy," "Grave Billy" and "Metaphysical Billy." Of the latter your correspondent sayeth nought.

But I, a neophyte in newspaper correspondence, beg leave to say you have done "Metaphysical Billy" great injustice. Perhaps you were not aware of his importance.

Why, my dear Editors, he has travelled in Europe—has been to London, Edinburgh, Berlin and Leipsic. Why he is like the "Travelled Monkey"; he has been to foreign countries, and his accounts of his travels have run negroes and monkeys crazy. This gentleman, though of a metaphysical turn of mind, somewhat tinctured with infidelity, induced, no doubt, by instructions from a distinguished divine of South Carolina, was prominent (so he thought) in the said Convention! And he made a—speech—but whether he took ground for confiscation or not, no one knoweth.

"He wired in and he wired out,
Leaving the people still in doubt,
Whether the snake (viper) that made the track,
Was going South or coming back."

If he was in favor of confiscation—although a rebel—he was safe, as he has nothing to be confiscated.

R.

MURDER BY A MILITARY SATRAP.

It has already been stated that Mr. Fred. B. Sheppard, a well known citizen of Mobile, was shot by Captain Morris Schaff, commanding the Mount Vernon Arsenal, near that city, from the effects of which Mr. Sheppard soon after died. The provocation for this act on the part of Captain Schaff, it would seem, was no other than the feeling created by the following correspondence:

Captain Schaff, Commanding Mount Vernon Arsenal:

SIR: I am informed that you, a few evenings since, at the Arsenal wharf, took occasion to criticise me in an offensive manner, and to animadvert on the application which I have recently made to the United States Government for my cotton, the property of a private citizen, taken from me in violation of General Canby's order, issued when that officer entered the city of Mobile, pledging protection to private property on certain conditions.

I feel as much as any one the military despotism under which the country is suffering; but certainly that should afford no prescriptive right of protection to any gentleman wearing the uniform of the army of the United States.

A candid reply to this note is requested at your earliest convenience, stating the language employed by you on the occasion referred to above. Yours, &c.,

FREDERICK B. SHEPPARD.

Belle Font, near Mount Vernon Arsenal, July 21, 1867.

SIR: You offer me a contemptuous insult in pronouncing the infamous lie that this is a military despotism.

When you write me a gentlemanly note in reference to remarks referred to, then I will give it an answer.

MORRIS SCHAFF.

To F. B. Sheppard, near Mt. Vernon.

SIR: I have received your envelope, returning my note to you of 21st, with an endorsement in your hand and signature.

There is nothing left me but to demand satisfaction, which is customary among gentlemen.

F. B. SHEPPARD.

On the receipt of the latter note Capt. Schaff, says a Memphis paper, "sent a lieutenant and a file of soldiers, arrested Sheppard, and had him brought before him, within the walls of the arsenal, where he drew a pistol and shot him!—shot an unarmed man, in the presence of a lieutenant and soldiers of the United States army! Colonel Sheppard was still on horseback when he was shot, having ridden into the arsenal yard with his captors, and not yet having dismounted. The immediate cause of the shooting was some words used by Sheppard to Schaff—just such words as a brave man would use to a coward under such circumstances. The shot took effect in the neck, showing the malignant design of Schaff, and Colonel Sheppard died of the wound about a week ago. To save appearances, Schaff, before the death of Colonel Sheppard, was tried before his comrades, not on a charge of assault with intent to kill, but on the charge of conduct 'unbecoming an officer;' with what result is not yet known. Sheppard having since died, the assassination is complete, and we call upon General Pope to hand Schaff over to the civil authorities of Alabama, to be tried for murder. Dare he, a brigadier general in the regular army of the United States, use his official position to cover up so gross an outrage upon a people over whom he has been sent to rule?"

VIEWS OF SENATORS WADE, SHERMAN AND THAYER.—At a recent meeting in Ohio, Senator Sherman said that Mr. Stanton's removal from the War Office was simply to get out of the way a man who insisted on the fair execution of the laws of Congress; that as a Senator he would vote to reinstate him as Secretary of War, and that he would be restored, to remain there during the term of Mr. Johnson's administration. Senator Wade was equally emphatic. Senator Thayer declared his belief that Andrew Johnson meditates forcible resistance to the authority of Congress, and that the organization of a rebel militia in Maryland was being effected to aid Johnson in his plan.

PUTTING IT STRONG.—The feeling in favor of repudiation is strengthening and extending, especially in the Northwest. The Democracy of Bandenburg County, Indiana, thus "resolved" on the legal-tender greenback question:

Resolved, That if greenbacks were good enough pay for the men who risked their blood in behalf of their country, they should be good enough pay for those who only risked their money.

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 28, 1867.

THE MEETING LAST NIGHT!

Grand Rally of the Conservatives!

We have only time and space to say, just as our paper goes to press, that the meeting of the Conservatives of the City, at the Court House, last night, was a glorious success. The building was crowded to its utmost capacity,—a considerable number of colored people being among those present.

The spirit which prevailed was excellent and enthusiastic, the resolutions adopted moderate and patriotic, and all the proceedings in admirable temper.

Rev. W. E. Pell presided; Messrs. J. D. Royster, P. C. Fleming and J. J. Overby were Vice Presidents, and James A. Moore, Esq., acted as Secretary.

Speeches were delivered by the Chairman, and R. C. Badger, J. Q. DeCarteret, J. P. H. Russ, M. A. Bledsoe and Seaton Gales, Esqrs.

But full particulars in our next.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—The attention of parties interested is directed to the Court notices from Person and Chatham Counties.

Liverpool Salt, just landing, and for sale in lots, at the lowest market price: O. G. Parsley & Co., Wilmington.

Agricultural Ware House: Mitchell, Allen & Co., Newbern.

The well-known and popular firm of Dancy, Hyman & Co., New York, has undergone a change in its members, as will be seen by their advertisement. Mr. John H. Hyman, of Scotland Neck, retires, and Messrs. R. W. & Theodore B. Hyman, of N. Y. City, are admitted as partners. The business will be continued under the same style and name.

WE REGRET, exceedingly, to learn that dispatches have been received, in this city, announcing the extreme illness, with yellow-fever, at Houston, Texas, of Jno. E. Allen, the son of our estimable townsman, C. B. Allen, Esq. Mr. Allen is the telegraph operator at Houston, and is a young gentleman of excellent promise. We sincerely trust that he may recover, but there is too much reason to apprehend that he will fall a victim to the terrible disease.

"EARLY TIMES IN RALEIGH."—We have been favored with an inspection of the advance sheets of the pamphlet bearing this title, compiled by R. S. Tucker, Esq, and now in course of publication by Messrs. Walters, Hughes & Co., of the Biblical Recorder. It embraces the addresses delivered by the Hon. D. L. Swain, on the occasion of the completion of the monument to the memory of Jacob Johnson, the father of the President, and of the dedication of Tucker Hall, together with the maps of the City made in 1792, 1834 and 1847. It is gotten up in very neat style, and, when completed, it will be an invaluable contribution to our local history. We are greatly pleased that these addresses are to be preserved in so durable a form.

This pamphlet, by the way, we would suggest to our merchants, is a good advertising medium. It will be widely disseminated, and the cards of our business men, in connection with the olden reminiscences, will show Raleigh as it is, compared with Raleigh as it was.

WE OBSERVE that "John, the Barber," in a communication to the Register, states that he did not sign, or authorize any one to sign, the call for the Conservative meeting last evening. For the satisfaction of "John, the Barber," we would state that the J. A. Jones, whose name is appended to the list, is a white gentleman of this City. "John" says that he is a Republican, of the Register type. That's right, John.

SHERIFFS.—The Sheriffs of Bladen, Caldwell, Lincoln, Alexander, Clay, Yadkin, Sampson, Edgecombe, Pasquotank, Columbus, Martin, Jones, Montgomery, Northampton, Person, Caswell, Surry, Rowan, Wilson, Alleghany and Davie, settled with the Comptroller and Treasurer, on yesterday.

They report the crops to be rather unpromising, except in Clay county, where the wheat and corn are both good. The cotton worm has made its appearance in Bladen and Sampson. It had not appeared in Edgecombe at the last accounts.

MUNICIPAL.—The Regular Meeting of the Board of Commissioners was held on Thursday evening. Present: Wm. D. Haywood, Esq., Mayor; Messrs. J. D. Royster, D. L. Royster, J. J. Overby, R. H. Battle, J. M. Betts and J. A. Moore, Commissioners.

On motion, L. W. Peck, Esq., was allowed $3.25, error in his tax list.

On motion of Mr. J. J. Overby, Mr. G. L. Horton was refunded dog tax, $3.25.

On motion, the City Tax Collector was requested to strike from his tax the name of Lavinia Harrison, (same property given in by other parties.)

The following Ordinance was adopted:

Be it ordained, That no person shall throw, empty or convey, or cause or suffer to be thrown, emptied or conveyed, from any part of his or her premises, any slops, filthy water or other offensive matter, into any gutters, sidewalk or street, in the City of Raleigh. Any person, so offending, shall forfeit five dollars for each offence.

Messrs. J. M. Blair & Co., applied to the military authorities for "permission to open a branch of their bar at the Railroad depot," which was referred to the Board of Commissioners by the military.

Mr. J. J. Overby moved to reject the proposition, on the ground of its being a violation of Gen. Sickles' order and a provision of the City Charter, chap. 15, sec. 1, page 54;

When Mr. Betts called for the yeas and nays, and the vote stood: Ayes: Messrs. J. D. Royster, D. L. Royster and J. J. Overby. Nays: Messrs. R. H. Battle, J. M. Betts and J. A. Moore.

There being a tie, the Mayor gave the casting vote in the affirmative, and it was rejected.

On motion of Mr. Moore, Mr. M. C. Luter was appointed to superintend the hands at work on Streets, vice J. D. Royster, Esq., resigned.

Sundry bills and accounts, amounting to $1,030.80, were read and allowed.

SERENADE IN WASHINGTON CITY—SPEECHES BY GEN. HANCOCK AND THE PRESIDENT.

On Friday evening, in Washington, a complimentary serenade was tendered to Gen. Hancock, prior to his departure to the command of the Fifth Military District. An immense concourse were assembled on the occasion.

Amidst prolonged and deafening cheers, General Hancock came forward, and, when the enthusiasm of the vast assemblage had ceased, spoke as follows:

CITIZENS OF WASHINGTON: I thank you for this testimony of your appreciation of my past services, and confidence in my ability to perform my duty in a new and different sphere. Educated as a soldier in the military school of our country, and on the fields of the Mexican war and American rebellion, I need not assure you that my course as a district commander will be characterized by the same strict, soldierly obedience to the law there taught me. As a soldier, I know no other guide or higher duty. Misrepresentation and misconstruction arising from the passions of the hour, and spread by those who do not know that devotion to duty has governed my actions in every trying hour, may meet me. But I fear them not. My highest pride will be to perform the duties of my new sphere, not in the interest of parties or partisans, but for the benefit of my country, the honor of my profession, and, I trust also, for the welfare of the people committed to my care. I ask, then, citizens, that I may not be judged in advance, and that time may be permitted to develop my actions. Judge me when I act by the deeds I may perform, and, conscious of my devotion to duty and my country, I shall be satisfied with your verdict; and, if a generous country shall approve my actions in the future, as it has in the past, my highest ambition will have been achieved.

As a soldier, I am to administer the laws rather than discuss them. If I can administer them in spirit, with due charity to the governed and to the satisfaction of my country, I shall indeed be happy in the consciousness of a duty performed.

I am about to leave your city, the capital of our country, bearing the proudest name of "Washington." As an American citizen, the rapid development and increase of its wealth, beauty, and prosperity, is a matter in which I too am deeply interested. But far beyond this, citizens of Washington, I rejoice with you, that in the trying hour of the rebellion, the capital of our nation contributed as freely in proportion, as any State of the Union, to the brave volunteer army which has demonstrated to the world the strength and invincibility of a republican form of government.

I shall carry with me the recollections of this occasion; and when I return, may I not hope that none who are here present in person or in spirit will regret their participation in the honors you have done me to night.

The crowd then proceeded to the Executive Mansion, and repeated and loud cheering brought out the President, who addressed the audience in the following patriotic terms:

FELLOW CITIZENS: In appearing before you this evening, it is not for the purpose of making an address, but simply to tender you my thanks for this kind manifestation of respect and regard, and especially so on the present occasion, and under the existing circumstances. I repeat, that it is not my purpose to make an address on this occasion, but to tender you my thanks, my heartfelt thanks, for this demonstration here to-night, and for this large and fine assemblage. If the time and circumstances justified, I would with much pleasure address you on the questions which divide and distract the public mind.

You know, my friends, however, that the country is in great peril; therefore, I am proud to see that you are aroused and alive to it. [Cries of "Good!" "That's the talk!" and "We can save it!"] You have saved it in times gone by, and I feel well assured that you can and will save it in time to come. [Cries of "Hear! Hear!" and "We will."] I repeat, our country is in peril; the Constitution of our country is in great peril—that Constitution which was formed and framed by our fathers, by the patriots of the Revolution, and which they cemented with their blood—and it becomes your duty to redeem and to save it from the peril in which it is involved.

I have another single utterance, and that utterance is, let every one here to-night have a conscience and a conviction in reference to the preservation of the Constitution of the county, and all will be safe. [Cries of "Hear, hear."] Let conscientious conviction be our courage; let the public good be our aim, and the Constitution of the country be our guide, and all will be well. [Cheers.] And now again accept my thanks for this kind demonstration you have made, and take with you, in saying to you good-bye, my best wishes for your welfare.

BEAUTIES OF REGISTRATION IN SOUTH CAROLINA.

Extract from a letter from South Carolina, received on the 20th. instant.

Just after receiving your letter I was appointed, at the request of General Sickles, one of the registrars of this State, and I have been busy ever since, making citizens of our new found brethren; many of them, in fact, nearly all of them, had no idea what "registering" meant, and as a natural consequence, the most ridiculous scenes transpired. Quite a number brought along bags and baskets "to put it in," and in nearly every instance there was a great rush for fear that we would not have registration "enough to go round." Some thought it was something to eat; others thought it was something to wear, and quite a number thought it was the distribution of confiscated land under a new name. They were told that they were to come before the board of registrars "to receive their elective franchise;" hence, all the mistakes above mentioned. All were sworn, and several, on being asked what was done when they were registered, said that "De gemblin wid de big whisker make me swar to deport (support) de laws ob de United Sonf Calina."

BLAIR UPON THE CABINET. A Washington dispatch to the Boston Journal says:

"Montgomery Blair in his speech yesterday at the Bladensburg mass meeting denounced the Cabinet as 'a set of political vermin,' and said that Secretary Seward, on the eve of the coming elections, was endeavoring to betray the Administration into the hands of its enemies. He believed that the President would be impeached and declared that the present condition of things was without precedent in the history of the country."

An old lady announced in court at Atlanta that she "had no counsel," that "God was her lawyer." "My dear madam," replied the judge, "he does not practice in this court."

Rev. R. Douglas, of Kentucky, has received a call from the Presbyterian Church at Lexington, Va., of which Stonewall Jackson was formerly an elder.

DRY GOODS.

NEW GOODS! NEW GOODS!!

NEW FALL AND WINTER GOODS FOR 1867.

Old Prices Reached the City and Stopped at

A. CREECH'S,

R. SMITH'S CORNER,

Fayetteville Street.

I AM NOW RECEIVING MY FALL AND WINTER Stock of

Staple and Fancy Dry Goods,

And I can say, with safety, that I have one among the largest and most complete stocks that has ever been brought to this City, either before or since the war,—embracing almost any and everything suitable for Ladies' and Gentlemen's wear.

CALICOES, 10, 12½, 15, and 18 cents per yard.

FRENCH MERINOS, 75 cts. to $1,25 per yard.

DELAINES, POPLINS, and a great variety of other Dress Goods, embracing all the new novelties of the season, and will be sold cheap enough to insure sales.

BROWN DOMESTICS, 12½, 15 and 20 cts. per yard.

BLEACHED DOMESTICS, 12½, 15, 20 and 25 cts. per yard, and all other goods in proportion.

Also, the largest and most varied stock of

CLOTHS,
CASSIMERES,
SATINETS,
TWEEDS, AND KENTUCKY JEANS

I ever offered to the trade in this City, both as to price and quality.

Also a very fine assortment of White and Colored FLANNELS,

LADIES' CLOAKS,
BREAKFAST SHAWLS,
SQUARE AND LONG SHAWLS,

which will be sold at prices to suit my customers.

Ladies', Misses' and Children's TRIMMED AND UNTRIMMED HATS,—new styles, from 50 cents to $4,00 each.

Boots and Shoes, Boots and Shoes.

The largest and best stock I ever brought to the City, consisting, in part, of J. Miles & Sons' make and others of equally high standing.

Ladies' Pegged Balmorals from $1 to $2.

Ladies Sewed Balmorals, from $1,50 to $2,50.

CREECH'S is the place to come to buy your Boots and Shoes.

Hats, Hats, Hats,

From 75 cts. to $4,00. Don't stop until you come to CREECH'S to buy your Hats. In fact, I think I can meet the expectations of all my customers and the public generally, both as to price and quality of ALL Goods.

Now a few words to my customers and friends: You see a great many different styles of advertisements. Some say they are in "luck again;" some say they have "hit the nail on the head;" some "selling out at cost;" some to "make room for a new stock;" some one thing and some another. But allow me to say, whether I am in luck, or whether I hit the nail on the head, or whether I missed the nail entirely, or failed to advertise "selling out at cost," I have said out my old stock, (while they are still hammering away over their old stock,) and have been North and bought a new stock. My goods are now in store, and opened for inspection.

COME AND LOOK AT THEM.

I told my customers, six months ago, that I would sell goods as cheap as Yankee, Jew or Gentile, and I think I have made my word good.

I told the people to come to Creech's to buy their goods, that I would serve them right. Hundreds have come, and they are still coming from this and adjoining Counties. And I here take the privilege to say I think they have shown their good judgment.

Don't forget to come to

A. CREECH'S,

Edgecombe County, N. C., May 24, 1867.

DR. J. J. LAWRENCE—Dear Sir—Please send me immediately per Express to Tarboro, two dozen more bottles of your Rosadalis. I have carefully examed its Formula, and have used it in my practice in a number of cases. I am well pleased with it. I think it, beyond doubt, the best Alterative I ever used. I have tried it in several cases of Scrofula and Scrofulous Affections, &c., with much satisfaction to myself and patients. I have also used it in Secondary and Teritary Syphilis, [one a terrible case of eight years' standing,] in which it acted with surprising and satisfactory effect—making a quick and thorough cure. I have, therefore, no hesitation in recommending it to Physicians and others, as the most reliable Alterative now known.

Respectfully yours, &c.,

A. D. NOBLES, M. D.

A Wonderful Cure of Scrofulous White Swelling.

HOME CERTIFICATE.

I hereby certify, that last September I was attacked with White Swelling of the left knee—and also with an enlargement of the glands of the neck—[one tumor reached a large size.] The swelling of the knee was enormous, and was attended with the most excruciating pains. I was so reduced that I was confined to my room over three months. My leg was so completely drawn up, that I could not bend it at all. I tried various remedies, and they failed to give me any relief. I was in this condition when I commenced taking Dr. Lawrence's Rosadalis. The swelling in the knee and neck began to subside before I took all of the first bottle. By the time I took the second bottle, the swelling of the neck entirely disappeared and that of the knee nearly so. After taking three bottles I found myself completely well—able to walk as well as ever, &c.

Rosadalis will cure the very worst cases of Chronic Rheumatism.

HOME CERTIFICATE.

Wilson, N. C., May 6th, 1867.

I here by certify that I was cured of long standing Chronic Rheumatism, by taking four bottles of Dr. Lawrence's Rosadalis.

Rosadalis cures Carbuncles, Boils, Pimples, &c.

Certificate from an old and much respected citizen of Greene County, now a resident of Wilson, N. C.

I hereby certify that, during the summer and fall of 1866, that I was severely afflicted with Carbuncles—having had as many as fourteen large Carbuncles, and twelve ordinary Boils. I suffered so much from them that I could not get out of the house half the time for several months. Being induced to try Dr. Lawrence's Rosadalis, I was entirely cured by the use of one bottle of that truly valuable medicine.

Wilson, May 11th, 1867.

Consumption, in its Early Stages, can be Cured.

BALTIMORE, Md., March 4th, 1867.

Dear Dr. Lawrence—My daughter having been cured of a deadly scrofulousness of the lungs by your "Rosadalis," I feel it my duty to make the fact known to you for the benefit of others. She suffered nearly two years with a hard cough, which troubled her day and night; at last the emaciated form, glassy eye, night sweats, together with the cough, told too plainly that it was Consumption, beyond question, calling at her door. Our Physician's remedies brought no relief. He was advised to try your Rosadalis, as a tonic, which she did—imagine my surprise and gratification, when I found her appetite returning. Slowly she regained her strength, her cough and night sweats gradually cease d, and she is now, after taking five bottles of your medicine, apparently as well as ever.

Yours respectfully,

MRS. E. ANN SMITH.

Salt Rheum Cured! Remarkable Cure!!

DR. LAWRENCE, Wilson, N. C.:

My Dear Sir—For the last ten years (until recently) I suffered with an inveterate eruption of the skin called by physicians "Salt Rheum," with which I suffered terribly. The pain and itching was almost intolerable. I tried several of the best physicians in Europe and this country, have visited several celebrated Springs, at a thousand of dollars, and failed to get any relief. In December 1866, being in Charleston S. C., I was told by a gentleman at the hotel, that he had

THE SENTINEL.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 28, 1867.

DIED--AGED EIGHTY.

BY M. E. W.

Oh! softly wave the silver hair,
From off that aged brow,
The crown of glory, worn so long,
A fitting crown is now!
Fold reverently the weary hands,
That wrought so long and well,
And while your tears of sorrow fall,
Let sweet thanksgiving swell.

That life work reached though many a year,
The deftly woven web,
With silver strands by sorrow wrought,
And sunny gleamings shed.
The year that graved this wrinkle deep,
Was that sad year of death,
When far from home, her first-born son
Gave up his youthful breath.

These silver hairs stole softly on,
Like flakes of falling snow!
When first the frost of age we saw,
No one of us may know.
Enough! for every silver hair,
We know some good deed done,
Some flower she cast along life's way,
Some spark from love's bright sun.

How bright she ever made her home!
The sunshine on the floor
Would seem to pause, then laughing in,
Would light from roof to floor!
The very falling of her step,
Made music as she went,
A song was ever on her lip,
A carol of content.

Gaze long upon the sweet calm face,
Beneath the banded hair,
There lingers yet life's saintly grace,
Though death's cold seal is there;
There tarries yet the lovely look,
That fifty years before
Made beautiful the blushing bride,
Within the old church door;

Made lovely as a dream of heaven,
When with a mother's joy,
She bent above the cradle rest
Of her first darling boy!
The mother look! Not death itself
Shall fade the mystic grace,
With which it brightens, when it falls,
E'en on the plainest face!

Oh! thou, whose life for many years,
Hast been so dear a thing—
To children's children, 'round thy chair,
Who fondly loved to cling,
All over now! the grief the fears,
The pains and joys of life!
Forever done with earthly tears,
With mortal woe and strife.

Oh! safe within thy Father's house,
Where many mansions be,
Pray only that such rest may come,
Dear heart, to thee and me.

We find the following beautiful letter from Mr. Webster in an old newspaper. It is worthy of Dickens:

"Lanman's forth-coming private life of Daniel Webster contains the following letter. It was addressed to a young lady who had been spending a social evening at Mr. Webster's house, and on account of the rain had substituted a borrowed hood for her own bonnet, and the note in question was delivered with the bonnet, at the residence of the lady, by Mr. Webster, while driving past the next morning:

"MONDAY MORNING, March 4, '44.

My Dear Josephine:—I fear you got a wetting last evening, as it rained fast soon after you left our door; and I avail myself of the return of your bonnet, to express the wish that you are well this morning, and without cold.

I have demanded parlance with your bonnet; have asked it how many tend r looks it has noticed to be directed under it; what soft words it has heard, close to its side; in what instances an air of triumph has caused it to be tossed; and whether ever, and when, it has quivered from trembling emotions, proceeding from below. But it has proved itself a faithful keeper of secrets, and would answer none of my questions. It only remained for me to attempt to surprise it into confession, by pronouncing sundry names one after the other. It seemed quite unmoved by most of these, but at the apparently unexpected mention of one, I thought its ribands decidedly fluttered.

I gave it my parting good wishes, hoping that it might never cover an aching head, and that the eyes which it protects from the rays of the sun, may know no tears but those of joy and affection.

DANIEL WEBSTER.

COTTON GIN HORSE POWERS.

WE BEG LEAVE TO INVITE THE ATTENTION OF COTTON PLANTERS TO OUR

IMPROVED EIGHT-FEET STATIONARY POWER

FOR

DRIVING COTTON GINS.

It is SIMPLE, STRONG and COMPACT, and can be easily put together. We sold a large number last season and the demand is constantly increasing.

The following letter from Col. Hood, of Surry County, speaks for itself:

* * * * It is with much pleasure that I state, your Gin Horse Power bought last season proved an entire success.

I applied a 12 feet lever and 6 feet band wheel to a 45 saw Gin, and one pair of ordinary mules which improved on constant work, and with slow gait of team gave sufficiency of speed; a capacity to gin about 4,000 per day.

The wear and tear in ginning 60 bales of cotton is not perceivable—do not think it could be estimated at 5 per cent. It was put up and geared by one of the best machinists in the state, who pronounced it superior to any patent he had seen; also, several gentlemen familiar by long use of gins, have examined it and decided to lay aside their old powers and order this pattern of you.

Yours, most respectfully, WM. H. HOOD.

PRICE, ONLY $65.

RAILROADS.

ATLANTIC & N. C. RAILROAD

AND

NORTH CAROLINA

GRAND TRUNK RAILROAD,

From Charlotte and all Points on the N. Carolina and its Connecting Railroads, to the Seaboard at Newbern and Morehead City.

THE STATE OWNS THREE-FOURTHS OF the North Carolina Railroad and three-fourths of the ATLANTIC & N. C. RAILROAD. This is the

STATE LINE,

To its OWN SEAPORT and on its OWN ROADS. All other lines are in opposition.

A six per cent dividend on this line will save the people from taxation $295,000 per annum.

Under a resolution of the Stockholders of the N. C. Railroad, all Freights are to go via Goldsboro', unless otherwise specially directed by shippers.

When at Goldsboro', you are only sixty miles from the shipping point, instead of one hundred and sixty via Weldon, and eighty via Wilmington. Our Steamers are equal to any other line, both for Freight and Travel. Time as short as by any other, and as cheap.

THIS is the Line

To ENCOURAGE. You get dispatch, safety, but one handling and less Railroad transportation than by any other line.

Three-fourths of the PROFITS made on this line go directly into the STATE TREASURY, and if encouraged, you will soon be relieved from heavy taxation at least two hundred and ninety-five thousand dollars.

The Railroads composing the N. C. GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY LINE have recently agreed to unite in a

GREAT THROUGH LINE

Route to all the Northern Markets, on equal terms and charges, via our own ports to and from the North.

Cars run through to all points without breaking bulk.

IS THE ONLY DIRECT LINE BETWEEN Boston New York Philadelphia, Baltimore and the Carolinas.

It is express in point of speed and safety of Freights, being from in advance of all other lines, and at as low rates. It offers daily communication with Baltimore, daily communication with Philadelphia.

FORTY TO SEVENTY HOURS

Five Steamers each week to and from New York.

Two Steamers each week to and from Boston.

It is the only line having these advantages, and by which there is but one handling of freight.

Cars are hauled at the wharves in Portsmouth and are run through to destination.

Be careful to direct your Consignors to ship only

From Baltimore, by the Norfolk or Bay Line Steamers, foot of Union Dock.

From Philadelphia by the Annamessic Line, Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore Depot, or by Clyde's Line, 14 south Delaware Avenue.

From New York by the Old Dominion Steamship Line, Pier 37 North River.

A Cheap Cotton Press.

FARMERS, BEFORE YOU BUY A PRESS OR build a Screw, enquire into the merits of the

GODWIN COTTON PRESS.

Hear what the following reliable gentlemen say:

I have seen Mr. J. H. Godwin's Cotton Press at work at Mr P. E. Smith's plantation and it does all that he says it does in his advertisement and more. I think it superior to any other mode of packing Cotton, and saves both time and labor.

W. R. SMITH.

I have used the above mentioned Press, and consider it the best I ever saw for packing Cotton.

THOS. J. VAUGHAN.

I have packed about 100 bales of Cotton with Mr. J. H. Godwin's Cotton Press, and take pleasure in recommending it to the farmers as a great labor-saving machine. It does not cost more than half as much as a Screw, and is worth twice as much.

It is so convenient, and takes fewer hands to do as much work as a Screw. I would pay the price of a Press rather than allow a man to put up a screw on my place for nothing.

D. EDMONDSON.

I have used the above mentioned Cotton Press, and it do s better than a Screw. Takes less hands, does not waste Cotton, and is much cheaper.

H. FURRY.
Sep't W. H. Smith's Plantation.

I have packed about 70 bales with Godwin's Cotton Press, and am certain it is the best, cheapest, most compact and durable Press in existence, costing only half of first, and having twice as long a screw.

PETER E. SMITH.

I have never seen the Cotton Press of Mr Jno. H. Godwin at work, but have no doubt, from the certificates of the gentlemen above, that it performs all they say of it. I know them to be gentlemen of character and veracity, and that their statements are entitled to credit

RICHARD H. SMITH.

The last name is one of our most honorable and respectable citizens, well known as a former member of the Legislature. I offer this PRESS as combining more advantages for packing than any one in use; it is adapted to large or small farms, and is so simple and cheap, that any good mechanic can build it. It is well adapted to

WATER POWER.

It is 10 or 11 feet wide, 3 feet and 3 inches thick; top of frame above ground, 16 feet; highest point of Lever, 18 or 19 feet. The platform on which the bale is turned out, is 10 feet above ground.

Length of box, 10 feet in the clear.

Length of bale 5 feet, by 2 feet 4 inches. Weight 500 or 600 lbs. It is put up flat against the Linter Room, thereby preventing the scattering of the cotton and need of baskets.

The Press is chiefly built of scantlings.

The Inventor has spared no pains in his experiments to make it practicable, convenient and cheap. I charge

$25 for a Single Right.

The total cost, including cover and everything, is about $150. Much of that, farmers are not in the habit of including as cost.

I think I can sell county rights at about $10 by the hundred.

SUPPLEMENT TO THE STEVENS-SHERMAN-SHELLABARGER BILL.

AN ACT supplemental to an act entitled an act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, passed March 2, 1867, and to facilitate restoration.

Be it enacted, &c., That before the first day of September, 1867, the commanding general in each district defined by the act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, approved March 2, 1867, shall cause a registration to be made of the male citizens of the United States, twenty-one years of age, and upwards, resident in each county or parish in the State or States included in his district, which registration will include only those persons who are qualified to vote for delegates by the act aforesaid, and who shall have taken and subscribed the following oath or affirmation:

"I, ——, do solemnly swear, or affirm, in the presence of Almighty God, that I am a citizen of the State of ——, that I have resided in said State for —— months next preceding this day, and now reside in the county of —— or the parish of ——, in said State, as the case may be; that I am 21 years old; that I have not been disfranchised for participation in any rebellion or civil war against the United States, nor for felony committed against the laws of any State or of the United States; that I have never been a member of any State Legislature, or held any executive or judicial office in any State, and afterwards engaged in insurrection and rebellion against the United States, and given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; that I have never taken an oath as a member of Congress of the United States, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, and afterwards engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; that I will faithfully support the Constitution and obey the laws of the United States, and will, to the best of my ability, encourage others so to do. So help me God."

which oath or affirmation may be administered by any registering officer.

Sec. 2. That after the completion of the registration hereby provided for in any State at such time and place therein as the commanding general shall appoint and direct, of which at least thirty day's public notice shall be given, an election shall be held of delegates to a convention for the purpose of establishing a constitution and civil government for such State loyal to the Union; said convention in each State, except Virginia, to consist of the same number of members as the most numerous branch of the State Legislature of such State in the year 1860, to be apportioned among the several districts, counties, or parishes of such State by the commanding general, giving to each representation in the ratio of voters registered as aforesaid as nearly as may be. The convention in Virginia shall consist of the same number of members as represented the territory now constituting Virginia in the most numerous branch of the Legislature of said State in the year 1860, to be apportioned as aforesaid.

Sec. 3. That at such election the registered voters of each State shall vote for or against a convention to form a constitution thereof under this act. Those voting in favor of such a convention shall have written or printed on the ballots by which they vote for delegates, as aforesaid, the words "for a convention;" and those voting against such a convention shall have written or printed on such ballots the words "against a convention." The persons appointed to superintend said election, and to make return of the votes given thereat, as herein provided, shall count and make return of the votes given for and against a convention; and the commanding general to whom the same shall have been returned, shall ascertain and declare the total vote in each State for and against a convention. If a majority of the votes given on that question shall be for a convention, then a convention shall be held, as hereinafter provided; but if a majority of said votes shall be against a convention, then no convention shall be held under this act: Provided, That such convention shall not be held unless a majority of all such registered voters shall have voted on the question of holding such convention.

Sec. 4. That the commanding general of each district shall appoint such loyal officers or persons as may be necessary, not exceeding three in each election district, in any State, to make and complete the registration, superintend the election, and make return to him of the votes, lists of voters and of the persons elected as delegates by a plurality of the votes cast at said election; and upon receiving said returns he shall open the same, ascertain the persons elected as delegates according to the returns of the officers who conducted said election, and make proclamation thereof; and if a majority of the votes given on that question shall be for a convention, the commanding general within sixty days from the date of election, shall notify the delegates to assemble in convention at a time and place to be mentioned in the notification, and said convention, when organized, shall proceed to frame a Constitution and civil government according to the provisions of this act, and the act to which it is supplementary; and when the same shall have been framed, said Constitution shall be submitted by the convention for ratification to the persons registered under the provisions of this act, at an election to be conducted by the officers, or persons appointed by the commanding general as hereinbefore provided, and to be held after the expiration of thirty days from the date of notice thereof to be given by said convention, and the returns thereof shall be made to the commanding general of the district.

Sec. 5. That if, according to said returns, the constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the votes of the registered electors qualified as herein specified, cast at said election, at least one-half of all the registered voters voting upon the question of such ratification, the president of the convention shall transmit a copy of the same, duly certified, to the President of the United States, who shall forthwith transmit the same to Congress, if then in session, and if not in session then immediately upon its next assembling; and if it shall moreover appear to Congress that the election was one at which all the registered and qualified electors in the State had an opportunity to vote freely and without restraint, fear or the influence of fraud, and if Congress shall be satisfied that such constitution meets the approval of a majority of the qualified electors in the State, and if the said constitution shall be declared by Congress to be in conformity with the provisions of the act to which this is supplementary, and the other provisions of said act shall have been complied with, and the said constitution shall be approved by Congress, the State shall be declared entitled to representation, and Senators and Representatives shall be admitted therefrom as herein provided.

Sec. 6. That all elections in the States mentioned in the said "Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States," shall, during the operation of said act, be by ballot; and all officers making the said registration of voters and conducting said elections shall, before entering upon the discharge of their duties, subscribe an oath faithfully to perform the duties of their offices, and the oath prescribed by the act approved July 2, 1862, entitled "An act to prescribe an oath of office:" Provided, That if any person shall knowingly and falsely take and subscribe any oath in this act prescribed, such person so offending, and being thereof duly convicted, shall be subject to the pains, penalties and disabilities which by law are provided for the punishment of the crime of wilful and corrupt perjury.

Sec. 7. That all expenses incurred by the several commanding generals, or by virtue of any orders issued or appointments made by them under or by virtue of this act, shall be paid out of any moneys in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated.

Sec. 8. That the convention for each State shall prescribe the fees, salary, and compensation to be paid to all delegates and other officers and agents herein authorized or necessary to carry into effect the purposes of this act, not herein otherwise provided for, and shall provide for the levy and collection of such taxes on the property in such State as may be necessary to pay the same.

Sec. 9. That the word "article" in the sixth section of the act to which this is supplementary shall be construed to mean "section."

IS OFFERED TO THE Public as a ready, certain and speedy means of preventing LARGE CONFLAGRATIONS.

Until the invention of the

Portable, Self-Acting Fire Engine,

Fires have been met by means too slow, too late and too cumbrous. But few persons in this country have the advantage of large hand or Steam Fire Engines, and those few often suffer a total loss of their property by reason of the great length of time consumed in sending for and getting them into working order.

BUT NOT SO WITH THE FIRE EXTINGUISHER,

which, being kept charged and standing in your House, Store or Factory, is always Ready for Instant Service.

The fire can be extinguished and your property saved without loss or damage, or even an alarm of Fire.

The first few minutes of conflagration decide the fate of the property; "a little fire is quickly put out, which, being suffered, rivers cannot quench."

THE EXTINGUISHER, being very simple in its operation, and entirely self-propelling, requires no previous skill or practice to operate it, and being so light, portable and self-acting, is capable of being used in any place, by any person, male or female.

It puts out all fires, arising from whatever cause. You are saved from the immense water damage caused by large Engines.

You can effect insurance on your property

At Lower Rates,

if protected by the Extinguisher.

The Extinguisher is no humbug, as thousands of good men in Europe and America will testify. I have already put these little Engines into some of our best Factories and largest Schools in N. C.

No House, Store, Factory or Corporation is safe without them.

The price is as nothing, compared with the protection they afford.
